Reasonable Adjustment is a legislative term that, for VET, refers to a measure or action taken by an education provider to enable learners with disability to participate in education and training on the same basis as learners without disability. All RTOs are obliged to provide reasonable adjustment to ensure. Reasonable adjustments are those that would not cause unjustifiable hardship on the RTO. For example, if the costs of making adjustments to the premises are such that they would cause hardship to the RTO, it would not be expected that such adjustments are made. RTOs are encouraged to seek advice from the Australian Human Rights Commission on the individual circumstance.

Student Support Services

The RTO will ensure that it has sufficient educational and support services to meet the needs of the learner cohort/s undertaking training and assessment services whether the services are internal or external to the organisation. The RTO will make every effort to identify any barriers that may impact upon a student's learning, participation or opportunity to successfully complete a Nationally Recognised Training program. This will be achieved by providing a supportive environment for students that invites disclosure. Where disclosure of a disability or support request has been received, the RTO will make reasonable adjustments and implement support strategies to allow student to fully participate in training programs.

(Also refer to P-018 Reasonable Adjustment Policy & Procedure)

The LLN is conducted as an online assessment, and LLN reports are generated from the system for each student. Where students do not meet the minimum ACSF requirement, student support measures will be implemented. The measures will vary based upon their individual LLN assessment results and any support plans will be discussed with each student.

Refer to the procedures: 1. Identifying Student Support Procedure and 2. Determining Student Support Measures Procedure.

Documenting Student Support

All staff are responsible for reporting and recording any conversations they have with student in regards to student support services.
